

Citizenship Working Group: Teaching Geography through Citizenship

Workshop 6

GA Annual Conference
Manchester

Friday 17th April
2009

11.30—12.20pm

Practical activities
for the classroom

Exploring citizenship through geography

Current geography research ideas

Introduction to the Citizenship
Working Group

www.geocitizen.org.uk

Citizens in Society

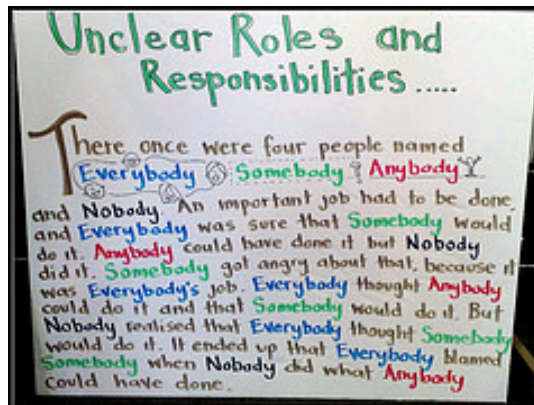

Photo: Kolya www.flickr.com

Photo: Canadian Veggie www.flickr.com

Active Citizenship: what does it mean? How is related to the geography and citizenship curricula?

Responsibility: how can current political and social geography research help us to understand the relationship between personal and social responsibility in different social spheres, e.g. welfare, health, personal finance and debt, education, housing, the environment ?

Ideas for classroom activities including categorising news stories, photo analysis, an active citizenship mystery and emotional mapping

Get involved in the Citizenship Working Group and hear more about our activities

GA Citizenship Working Group

We are interested to hear more about what kind of activities you would like to see the GA Citizenship Working Group undertake over the next year. We are planning the following activities:

- Developing teaching resources on citizenship through geography
- Initiating a competition for pupils to generate their own resources for citizenship through Geography—the 'geocitizen award'
- Contributing to QCA curriculum reviews
- Organizing events to bring together teachers, pupils, university students and lecturers and policy-makers
- Developing the geocitizen website

Website: www.geocitizen.org.uk

Email: geocitizenprojct@googlemail.com

Comments

If you wish to be informed of the activities of the Citizenship Working Group, please return this form to: Jessica Pykett, Institute of Geography and Earth Sciences, Aberystwyth University, SY23 3DB

Name

Address

Email
