09.15-16.00 Field Visit: Working environments of the Peak District National Park KS3-P16

Stefan Horsman, Head of Geography, Cheadle Hulme School and Dr Philip Wright, Peak District National Park Education Visits

National Parks are commonly regarded as environments that need to be conserved while providing recreational opportunities. However, they are also environments in which people live and work. On this fieldtrip we will experience a variety of working landscapes including the Hope Quarry and Cement Works, diversification of farming, a grouse moorland and local industries including ice cream manufacture and a brewery. Price £5 including transport

10.15-13.00 Field Visit: Regeneration, rebranding and redevelopment in Nottingham KS2-P16

Peter Fox, Leading Teacher & Geography Teacher, Chillwell School & Lakeview College

Nottingham, the 'Queen of the Midlands', has been transformed in recent years. This field visit examines some of the changes that have taken place, building upon the Medieval traditions of the Robin Hood city. Participants will walk through the city considering the impact of change and development. While suitable for all, it will include some steep slopes and stairs. Price £5 including free copy of *Discovering Cities: Nottingham

Please note: transport to Nottingham railway station is not included in the price - delegates may make their own travel arrangements or take the 09:39 train from Derby returning at 13:11 (£5.10 return). Check times and prices before travelling as these may be subject to change.

12.00-15.00 Association at Work

Hallmark Hotel

Representatives from GA Committees and Working Groups will meet for group discussions.

15.15-16.00 GA Annual General Meeting

Hallmark Hotel

All GA members are welcome to attend.

17.00-18.15 Public Lecture

Hallmark Hotel

17.00-17.40 - What GIS means for the next generation

Richard Waite, Director, ESRI (UK)

GIS is here to stay and this lecture will explore what this means for teachers and pupils, our future workforce. It will explain why GI skills are becoming increasingly important in the workplace, how GIS can enhance the teaching of a broad range of subjects, and how geography teachers can lead the way.

GA Annual Conference & Exhibition 2010

Thursday 8 April

17.45-18.15 - Going Over the Wall

Michelle Ainsworth, Regional Co-ordinator Central and Northern England, Over the Wall

Over The Wall is a charity providing residential activity camps for children and young people affected by serious illnesses. This lecture will cover all aspects of their work including the benefits brought to children and their families and how the activity camps can help ill children go forward. Over The Wall is the GA's chosen charity for the 2010 Annual Conference and Exhibition with £1 from every delegate registration fee going to support their work.

18.15-18.45 Awards Presentations

Hallmark Hotel

The Presentations will include the long-standing GA Awards, recognising materials which make a significant contribution to school geography; and the Frederick Soddy Awards, supporting school fieldwork and expeditions. A free wine reception will follow the Awards Presentations.
